

THE RITZ LONDON

SILVER SERVICE – RIVOLI STYLE

Issued December 1st, 2009.

The Rivoli Bar, the elegant cocktail bar at The Ritz, is already a favourite meeting place for a glass of Champagne, a martini or a one of the glamorous signature cocktails for which the chic art deco style bar is renowned. Now, with the introduction of the new Rivoli menu which is offered throughout the day, there is even more reason to visit the bar and treat yourself to a light lunch or supper.

Diners also now enjoy a new service style. Elegant bar trays, specially designed by Executive Chef John Williams to enhance the presentation of the classic dishes on his bar menu, have become the service standard in The Rivoli. Unique to The Ritz, these beautiful silver trays combine all the ingredients for an individual place setting – linens, cutlery, condiments and tableware – and make the perfect complement for the meal of your choice. Traditional menu items such as a Rivoli Bar Charcuterie Plate with Piccalilli, a Classic Nicoise Salad or a Mixed Grill Platter with Bearnaise Sauce are only a few of the delectable choices available for a light business lunch, pre-theatre supper or just the ideal excuse for a rendezvous for any occasion!
